

A man in a dark blue suit, white shirt, and red striped tie is sitting in a green upholstered chair. He is looking directly at the camera with a serious expression. Behind him is a large, white, classical statue of a woman, possibly a goddess, with a serene expression and flowing robes. The background is slightly blurred, showing an indoor setting with warm lighting.

“Power. At Asvar Law, we do not derive our power from vast corporate riches or accommodating friends in state legislatures. No, we derive our power from the faith, resolve, and resilience of the individual man, woman, or child who comes to us after a catastrophic injury at work or at the fault of another. We derive our power from the courage of our clients.”

Exceptional Commitment to Clients with Catastrophic Brain Injuries

“We see firsthand what the powerful do to innocent people at their most vulnerable,” says attorney Christopher A. Asvar. “It is that immense sense of injustice that drives us.”

Asvar Law represents clients in both personal injury civil litigation and workers’ compensation. Their civil practice is focused on high-value litigation with the firm devoting extensive resources to each case while ensuring intensive personal client care, which has led to millions of dollars recovered for the firm’s clients.

In the firm’s workers’ compensation practice, Asvar secured in 2012 the highest reported settlement or award in California and the nation for a young client who suffered a workplace brain injury as the result of a fall. That record remained intact until 2017, when Asvar broke it with a $10 million workers’ comp settlement, once again the highest known workers’ comp record in California and the nation.

Asvar Law attorneys are innovators in catastrophic injury litigation, have been recognized time and again by Super Lawyers®, and are honored to be included in The National Trial Lawyers® 2016 list of the Top 100 Civil Plaintiff Trial Lawyers in the country. Asvar Law is a Los Angeles-based law firm, proudly representing the injured throughout California.
